Our featured expert waiting to answer your questions is Stylist/Lace Wig Expert Jamie Smith. Jamie's experience with celebrities, her market editorials and her successful campaigns have positioned her as a successful hairstylist and consultant in the fashion and talent industry. Jamie brings a fresh approach to hair care with her energetic and passionate commitment to making people look their best. Jamie understands the hair needs of women and believes in Kamelian Lace-it because the products deliver amazing results. She believes that hair shouldn't be static; it is an expression of who you are and should always be moving and changing.

It was destined that Jamie would become a well sought after hair stylist. When she could barely walk, she was styling her baby dolls' hair. Then, when it was safe for her to handle scissor, she began to cut their hair. No doll was spared. It was obvious to her parents that God had given their child an innate ability to create wonderful hair styles. Jamie knew at an early age what she wanted to do with her life and that direction never changed.

Jamie attended Howard County Vocational School located in Columbia, Maryland. She passed the state board in 1993. Her first job as a stylist was working at a top international salon located in Columbia, Maryland. She worked there for four years and learned as much as she could. But Jamie did not want to stop there. She became a Certified Colorist with Clairol. Using her hands-on experience, along with her custom color techniques, she assisted Clairol in launching the Beautiful Color Collection.

In 1997, Jamie joined the styling team at Strands Hair Studio located in Columbia, Maryland. Working at Strands Hair Studio, a cutting edge salon which Jamie now owns and operates, helped Jamie expand and improve her skill set.

Jamie is a Lace Front expert who is certified in integration pieces and non-surgical hair replacement techniques. She became very interested in Lace Front techniques as a result of seeing more and more of her clients losing their hair for various reasons.

She was looking for a process that would allow the hair to rest, but still provide the client the glamour desired. She noticed that the Lace Front alternative offered the least amount of damage to her client's hair. She has found that a Lace Front Wig can solve any hair challenge, while, at the same time, provide the client with the look she desires. However, she quickly recognized that some of the products used to bond the lace wig were taking out the natural hair line. She also became very concerned about the harsh spell of the bonders. She discovered that the some of the bonders being used on Lace Wigs are the same glues that are used for laying down wooden floors. This discovery caused her to diligently look for a much safer approach for affixing her client's Lace Wigs.

Jamie contacted Kamelian Beauty Products and expressed and her concerns. She then started working with the company to develop products that would be safer and would preserve her clients' hair line. Lace-It EZ Bond and Removal System have proven to be that healthier alternative. The Lace-It Bond and Removal System allows the client to preserve and maintain her natural hair line. It is also a quick and easy process. And, most importantly, it is, by far, the safer alternative.
